MAYOR WALKER TO FACE CHARGES

WILL ASK REMOVAL FOR VIOLATION OF ORDINANCE IS SAID

Also Accuse Jimmy Of Violating Code Set
By Governor

NEW YORK, June 2.—Removal of Mayor James J. Walker will be asked of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt on at least two charges—that he violated a city ordinance, and that he did not live up to a standard of conduct decreed by the governor himself for elected public officials.

The ordinance violation was charged yesterday before the Hofstadter investigating committee which adjourned later until after the national party conventions. The ordinance forbade any member of the board of estimate to become financially interested in or a stockholder in any corporation holding a contract with the city.

Samuel Seabury, counsel, previously has piled up evidence of huge deposits or accounts or income record for the mayor as gifts from friends during his term of office, and he has charged other huge income was concealed by Russell T. Sherwood, missing financial agent for the mayor, whose accounts totalled nearly a million.

While explanations of this income have been made, Seabury may charge before the governor that the explanations are not satisfactory or credible. The governor, in removing Sheriff Thomas M. Farley from office decreed that any elected public official should give a satisfactory or credible explanation of income other than his salary during his term of office.

Seabury's charge was based on the fact that Walker held ten bonds of the Reliance Bronze and Steel Co. These bonds were convertible into common stock, were given him in a $26,000 allotment by John A. Sisto, taxicab corporation promoter, in 1923, in lieu of cash when a stock trading account was closed.

Walker had testified he received the bonds, which he said were given him by his wife although carried in his name. Seabury introduced evidence to show that coupons had been cashed and the $600 proceeds had been deposited to a Walker account.

The most sensational bit of testimony yesterday was that by the mayor's brother, Dr. William H. Walker, that he had joint accounts with four other city doctors in which $431,000 had been deposited since 1928. Walker admitted receiving large amounts from these doctors, and splitting fees 50-50 with one of the four, but insisted the money received from the other three was "for other work."

All five physicians had been named to serve in city compensation cases by an assistant city attorney. He denied any "politics" was involved in the appointments.

Bills submitted by the physicians provoked the laughs of the session. One injury was listed as "an injured right toe." The $47 bill listed four "X-rays of the hand" and nine office calls for "repair of wounds."

Another bill charged the city for "strapping patient's foot." The injury was listed elsewhere as in the left thumb.

ARREST WOMAN IN HUNT FOR WITNESS

CLEVELAND, O., June 2.—Miss Peggy Myers, 25, subpoenaed as a state witness in the first murder trial of Hyman "Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin, was arrested today and held by police for the county prosecutor's office.

Miss Myers is a friend of Betty Gray, missing state witness, who was with her in the latter's first-floor suite in the apartment house the night former Councilman William E. Potter was murdered in a suite directly above them.

Circumstances in the arrest of Miss Myers were kept secret and police declined to tell what information they expected to obtain from her.

A man said to have been associated with Miss Myers recently was arrested with her.

It was believed that Miss Myers would be questioned as to her knowledge of the whereabouts of Miss Gray.

LINDBERGH TAKES UP RESEARCH WORK

NEW YORK, June 2.—Dr. Chas. A. Lindbergh has resumed his experiments in the Rockefeller Institute for medical research, it has been learned.

Simon Flexner, director of the institute, would not comment on the nature of Lindbergh's work, although the flier has been experimenting with a centrifugal apparatus for separating serum from the blood.

SENATE BATTLES OVER ECONOMY BILL AS HOUSE SPEEDS TAX BILL

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The administration marshaled its forces today against what President Hoover calls "pork barrel legislation" and sent Secretary of War Patrick Hurley before the house ways and means committee to testify against the Garner unemployment relief program.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The senate was spinning into a sharp dispute over economy today while its conferees met with those of the house to speed the $1,116,000,000 tax bill to final enactment.

The senate was aroused by its economy committee's proposal to apply a ten per cent salary reduction right down the line from cabinet officers and congressmen to stenographers and charwomen.

About $122,000,000 would be saved by such a cut. This is more than half of the $238,605,000 of savings in the measure, which supplements the tax bill to balance the budget.

Considerable sentiment was developing for a graduated salary cut, taking more than 10 per cent off the big salaries and very little from the $600-a-year charwomen.

Others wanted to follow the example of the house and reduce only those salaries in excess of $2,500.

But this would save only about $9,000,000. Champions of the flat 10 per cent cut insisted it was the only feasible way of making the requisite saving.

Protests raged around the pay cut will be outdone by the fight developing to protect the $1,000,000,000 war veterans' appropriation. The economy committee recommended a reduction of $48,000,000. This touches delicate political nerves.

The tax bill conferees, meeting in secret, had before them the revenue bill as passed by the senate and by the house. Under congressional rules, the items are interchangeable and may be reduced, but nothing can be put in the final measure which does not appear in either house or senate bills.

Democratic Leader Rainey, one of the house conferees, said he would fight to strike out the oil, lumber, coal and copper tariffs in the senate bill. Other differences to be reconciled are the higher income levies and lower stock market tax adopted by the senate.

Chairman Smoot of the senate conferees predicted the compromise would be done quickly, the measure approved in final form by house and senate and dispatched to the President early next week.

YOUTH WILL AGAIN FACE EXECUTION

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 2.—The state supreme court which has once saved the life of Russell Williams, 17, will again be asked to prevent electrocution of the youthful slayer.

McWilliams, whose execution Clarence Barrow and leading social workers are striving against, was condemned to death in the electric chair a second time yesterday by Judge Arthur Fisher.

The supreme court had referred the case to the jurist for introduction of more testimony in mitigation of the plea of guilty which the youth entered to charges of slaying a streetcar motorman in a gin inspired holdup.

QUIZ COP IN WOMAN'S DEATH

CINCINNATI, O., June 2.—A coroner's jury was assembled today to inquire into the death of Mrs. Mattie Caldwell, 28, divorced waitress found dead in her flat today. A police pistol lay near her. Officers said it belonged to Wayne Monroe, 28, patrolman, who reported Mrs. Caldwell shot herself while he stood at a sink getting a drink of water.

TWO CHILDREN BRAVE DEATH TO FOIL BOMB AIMED AT ALDERMAN

Alert Youngsters Pour Water On Fuse But Second Explodes

CHICAGO, June 2.—Two alert youngsters braved death to foil partially a bomb attack on the home of Alderman Bryan Hartnett of the twelfth ward, police revealed today.

The boys were the alderman's 7-year-old son, Bryan, Jr., and his chum, Robert Perry, 8. They extinguished the sputtering fuse of one bomb a few minutes before a second explosion rocked the home.

The children saw a man dash on up to the porch of the house, deposit a parcel, light a match and run away. Curious, they went out and found the smoking bomb. Each took a glass of water and tossed it on the fuse which had burned to within two inches of the five sticks of dynamite in the bomb.

A few minutes later a second bomb exploded in the rear of the house next door, occupied by Michael Hartnett, father of the alderman.

Bryan, Jr., told police how discovery of the bomb occurred. "We happened to look out the front window," he said. "An automobile stopped in front of the house and a man ran out and up to the porch. We saw him put something down, light a match and then go back to the car and drive away."

"We wondered what was the matter and went out onto the porch. We saw this smoking package so we came inside and got some water and poured it on the bomb."

Police believed the second explosion which did damage of $200 was intended for the alderman's home and placed next door by error. Hartnett, a Democrat, could offer no explanation of the attack.

EXPECT WHITE TO REFUSE CLEMENCY

COLUMBUS, O., June 2.—A final technicality is all that stands between the electric chair and Henry Loudermilk, white, and Walker Brown, colored, convicted slayer of John Kidney, aged Pickaway County recluses.

They are under sentence to die Friday night at Ohio Penitentiary. They were given a final hearing before the board of parole and S. P. Dunkle, executive secretary to Governor White, Wednesday. A final report will be made by Dunkle and the board tonight.

Executive clemency is not expected to be extended to the two men.

Loudermilk and Brown, together with four other men, were convicted of murdering the Pickaway County farmer while attempting to rob him on November 11, 1931. All the men except Loudermilk are Negroes.

COST OF TROOPS AT MINES IS MOUNTING

COLUMBUS, O., June 2.—The cost of maintaining national officers and troops in the mining districts, as a result of the coal strike, has increased to a total of approximately $100,000 since April 1.

This was disclosed when the state emergency board appropriated $15,000 to pay bills incurred in sending troops into Athens County last week.

Previous costs, most of which were for the maintenance of troops in Harrison County, approximated $85,000.

Two additional officer observers were assigned to the eastern mining district Wednesday by Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson as the result of the reopening of additional mines.

COUNTY GETS AID

COLUMBUS, O., June 2.—Distribution of $156,120 in state aid funds to Ohio schools was announced here by State Director of Education B. O. Skinner. Greene County receives $2,100.

FRAMES PLATFORM

James R. Garfield of Cleveland, son of the late President Garfield, has been named chairman of the important Republican resolutions committee. Garfield, who was prominent in the Bull Moose faction of the 1912 G. O. P. split, will have a leading part in framing the Republican platform at the Chicago convention.

AGENCY TO RESTORE BUSINESS TACKLES TASK IN CLEVELAND

Committee To Find Work
For Reserves
Functioning

CLEVELAND, O., June 2.—An agency for arresting the forces of economic depression in the fourth federal reserve district began its job today.

A committee of fifteen bankers and business men, named by E. R. Fancher, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, was preparing to tackle the project of stimulating business activity through the profitable employment of excess bank reserves.

The group was selected at a meeting in the reserve bank here at which Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board at Washington, outlined plans for the restoration of normal business conditions.

Meyer said the nation had absorbed the shock of events, both political and economic, at home and abroad, and expressed conviction that the present foundation is substantial enough to make a further disintegration.

Fancher said the committee would function in harmony with similar groups being formed in federal reserve districts throughout the country and that through cooperative effort the whole would assume the aspect of a national organization to combat influences inimical to a return of normal activities.

Neither Meyer nor Fancher disclosed details on the program to be pursued, but it was indicated that the committee would seek to stimulate business in this district by devising ways to release for constructive purposes some of the excess bank credit that has piled up as a result of the federal reserve system's "easy money" campaign.

Under terms of the will, the de Chambrun were instructed to pay $400 a month for life to Mary Wood Nichols, widow of Mrs. Storer's son, Joseph, and $400 a year to a French priest at Cannes, France.

Mrs. Storer was an aunt of the late speaker of the house of representatives, Nicholas Longworth.

MAGIC RULES KENTON AS TRICKSTERS TURNED LOOSE ON GAPIING CITIZENRY

KENTON, O., June 2.—There were something like 2,000 visitors in Kenton today, any of whom could do a fair job of proving that "things are not what they seem."

Gathered on street corners, meeting in convention assembled as the International Brotherhood of Magicians, conversing with the hotel clerks or sitting at dinner, the proponents of magic made continuous assaults on physical laws and logic.

Dollars were plucked from empty pockets, mind readers rebuked strangers for thought that had not been expressed, soup plates appeared in empty hats.

It was a manifestation of apparent chaos in the physical world, brought here by W. W. Durbin, president of the brotherhood and known throughout the world of magic as a leading amateur exponent of sleight-of-hand.

Durbin led the magicians in a great inaugural parade, then released them on a defenseless citizenry, whereupon they proceeded to work their miracles and tricks.

The members held business meetings and sessions at which they befuddled one another, none of them telling the other how he accomplished his feats.

The convention will end tomorrow.

REPUBLICANS PLAN COMPROMISE STAND UPON PROHIBITION

Brown Says Party To Adopt Plank Agreeable To All

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Republican leaders appear to be preparing the way for a compromise declaration on prohibition at the Republican national convention which opens less than two weeks from today.

President Hoover is issuing no orders, so far as has been disclosed. At least none has penetrated through the thick fog of talk which enshrouds the prohibition issue here. He is believed to be sympathetic to a resubmission proposition coupled with a reassuring expression for the dry voters.

Political leaders and delegations are filing in and out of the White House like a line of ants as convention time approaches. They go inside and speak their pieces. The inexperienced wait hopefully for President Hoover to express his views in reply. He only smiles and thanks them for coming in. The experienced callers preface their remarks by saying in effect, "Now Mr. President I don't want you to say a word, but I think you ought to know—" and so on.

Mr. Hoover's chief political manager, Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, has announced that the Republican convention will agree to a prohibition plank that will be "satisfactory to all." The usual result of such effort is something unsatisfactory to both sides but Brown is optimistic.

At the same time Senator Borah, Repn., Idaho, who has indicated he might hold aloof from the presidential campaign unless the party took a bone dry stand, has come to the aid of one leading dry insurgent Republican, Senator Brookhart, Iowa, who is fighting a hard primary battle for re-nomination. Borah issued a statement expressing the hope that Brookhart would be returned to the senate as a friend of agriculture.

President Hoover had the support of practically all organized dry groups four years ago and he has told some of their leaders that he will not desert them this time. On the other hand, Republicans from large eastern states like New York and New Jersey are bearing down hard for some shift in position which will enable them to proclaim him as a wet. Betting is good that the Republican platform carpenters will do their best to construct a compromise formula that will recognize both of these diverse elements—something to the general effect that we need greater respect for all laws but that the people ought always to have the right register their views.

DAUGHTER WILL GET DIPLOMAT'S ESTATE

CINCINNATI, O., June 2.—The entire estate of Mrs. Marie Longworth Storer, widow of Bellamy Storer, once American ambassador to Austria, has been left to her daughter, Margaret Rieves Nichols de Chambrun, and her son-in-law, Pierre Marguerite de Chambrun, of Paris. It was revealed today after the will had been filed for probate here.

No estimate of the estate was made. Mrs. Storer died abroad recently.

Under terms of the will, the de Chambrun were instructed to pay $400 a month for life to Mary Wood Nichols, widow of Mrs. Storer's son, Joseph, and $400 a year to a French priest at Cannes, France.

Mrs. Storer was an aunt of the late speaker of the house of representatives, Nicholas Longworth.

WAR AGE CAUGHT

W. T. Ponder, aviator, is almost sorry that he brought down eleven enemy planes during the World War. Because of his heroic exploits, he was given wide publicity when flying customs agents outmaneuvered him in a thrilling chase over Texas which ended at San Angelo. Ponder, who lives at Fort Worth, was charged with unlawfully transporting 672 bottles of beer.

OHIO "BONUS ARMY" DENIED STATE HELP IN TRANSPORTATION

Governor Refuses To Help Marchers At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, June 2.—More than 400 Cleveland World War veterans will participate in the "bonus march" to Washington, scheduled to start here at 8 a. m. Saturday. The committee in charge reported today.

Governor George White flatly refused today to give any further state assistance to the marchers. His statement followed receipt of a letter from C. B. Cowan, R. Des-saff and J. Savako, in charge of arrangements here.

"The Cleveland contingent will be enlarged by delegates from Akron, Massillon, Marion, Mansfield, Elyria, and Lorain, who will leave with us from Cleveland," the committee wrote White.

"Our ranks will be further swelled in Youngstown by delegates from Alliance, Ravenna, Canton and Youngstown."

The letter asked "transportation at the state's expense from Cleveland to Youngstown and from Youngstown to the Pennsylvania state line."

"I have been requested by Washington authorities to lend no further assistance to bonus marchers," replied Gov. White. "The city of Washington has a large number of unemployed with attendant relief problems and bonus marchers in embarrassing numbers are already in that city."

White added that he felt there were enough veterans in Washington to make a "dignified presentation of your arguments for payment of the bonus."

Transportation through Ohio was furnished last week to marchers from the west, the governor pointed out, after they had been brought to the state line in Indiana trucks.

"It was only sensible and just to afford them the means of proceeding on their journey," White said, but added: "I shall not be a party to the encouragement or initiation of further such marches, which can have no good effect."

Cowan said letters have been sent to governors of all states on the route of march demanding transportation and other assistance.

A letter signed by Cowan and sent to the chief of police at Washington demands "accommodations for our entire group at federal expense during our stay in the nation's capitol."

THREE FLYERS SEEK MISSING PAIR IN NORTH

Scour Newfoundland For Mission Worker
And Pilot

BOSTON, June 2.—A big silver monoplane left here soon after sun-up today, carrying three young Boston aviators on a two-stop 7,300-mile flight to far northern Newfoundland to make an aerial search for a Grenfell mission worker and an air mail pilot missing since Memorial Day.

Aboard the pontoon-equipped plane, loaned for the expedition by Dr. Alexander Forbes of Milton, were: Charles Joseph "Charlie" Hubbard, Jr., 29-year-old architect and former Harvard football captain, as navigator; Harold G. Crowley, 30, one of the ablest seaplane pilots in New England, as pilot; and Edward T. O'Toole, 30, as mechanic.

After refueling stops at Charlottetown, P. E. I., and St. Georges, Newfoundland, they expected to reach the Grenfell Mission at St. Anthony about 8 p. m. Tomorrow, if all goes well, they will begin an aerial hunt over the St. Anthony region for Dr. K. Karl Kuehnert of Crystal Lake, Ill., dental surgeon attached to the Grenfell Mission at St. Anthony, and Arthur Sullivan of St. Johns, Newfoundland, his pilot on a pleasure flight from which they failed to return.

Sir Wilfred Grenfell, the veteran medical missionary, has summoned Bernt Balchen to make the aerial search. When Calchen was delayed in New York, Sir Wilfred called on Hubbard and Crowley who last year made a topographical survey of the Labrador coast and are familiar with the local lands.

SEEKING RELEASE ON FLEMING BOND

COLUMBUS, O., June 2.—Scott Krauss, Columbus newspaper and magazine distributor, is seeking to have his name removed from bonds given by Grover Fleming, editor of the Ohio Examiner, in connection with charges against Fleming at Springfield, Piqua and Sidney.

Krauss, deprived of his position as distributor here for the weekly publication, attributed the move to his refusal to sign a fifth bond for the editor, in Sidney.

Fleming is fighting numerous libel charges.

Judge Fred A. Wagner, of Springfield, refused to remove Krauss' name, saying the bond is cancelled automatically if Fleming appears for preliminary hearing Friday and is bound over to the grand jury. Krauss said he would seek removal of his name on bonds at Piqua and Sidney.

CONVICT THIRD OF KIDNAPING CHARGE

WARREN, O., June 2.—A sentence of life imprisonment faced Anthony Lauri, 37, Youngstown, today, following his conviction on charges of participating in the kidnapping last March of James DeJute, Jr., 11, son of a wealthy Niles contractor.

Lauri was found guilty by a jury on charges of kidnapping for ransom, a verdict which carries a mandatory penalty of life imprisonment.

The boy was kidnapped by three men as he walked home from school a few hours after the Lindbergh baby was taken from its cradle.

Dowell Hargreaves, Youngstown is serving a life term as a result of the kidnapping and John Demarco, was sentenced to from one to twenty years when it was pointed out that he had not figured in the actual kidnapping.

DIES IN CHICAGO

HAMILTIN, O., June 2.—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Thomas M. Boyd, 72, chairman of the board of the American Seating Co., who died yesterday at his home in Chicago. Boyd, a native of Butler County, was county treasurer from 1890 to 1894 and for a brief time publisher of the Hamilton Daily Democrat. He founded a school furniture firm which later merged with the American Seating Co.

OHIO POLITICIANS
INTERESTED IN NEW YORK GRAFT PROBE

Revelations May Help Favorite Sons In Convention

By LESLIE EIOHEL
Central Press Writer
CLEVELAND, June 2.—Probability that the removal of Mayor James J. Walker of New York City would be urged upon Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York has charged the political atmosphere in Ohio with suppressed excitement.

The Democratic national convention in Chicago is less than a month away—and Ohio has three men who are talked of for the presidential nomination.

Outstanding is Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, of Cleveland. Next in line is Governor George White, of Marietta, Ohio's "favorite son" for 1932. And, thirdly, there is United States Senator Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland.

Great Interest
Thus, the disclosures made by Samuel Seabury, counsel for the Hofstadter investigating committee in New York, have become of more intense interest than local politics.

In Ohio, there seems to be little sympathy for Walker. In fact, anti-Tammany comment is severe. People figuratively are holding up their hands in horror, papers supporting Baker are denouncing in stringent terms and the populace appears aroused over fears that Tammany may spread "its tentacles."

That Seabury would force the Walker issue on Governor Roosevelt prior to the convention seemed a foregone conclusion. The presumption in Cleveland is that Governor Roosevelt will have a difficult time. On the one hand he is likely to anger Tammany and on the other hand he may bring an uprising against himself throughout the nation. At least, that is the impression gained from this distaste.

Clear of Such Problems
The Ohio candidates have no such problems. True, since a form of city manager government was voted out in Cleveland, and the Democrats gained the city administration, there have been hot charges of a return to the spoils system. But then attention is directed to Cincinnati, where a model city manager government is giving an administration to which citizens point with pride.

Sums mentioned in the New York expose take away the breath of Ohio citizens, many of whom have been out of work for months.
On every hand one hears remarks on Mayor Walker being unable to live on $25,000 a year and accepting stock profits of $246,692-75, to say nothing of receiving $26-535 in bonds in another deal, $10-000 in another stock deal, a $10-000 trip to Europe, plus a $3,000 overdraft, according to the record of testimony brought out by Sen-Seabury. Then, Ohioans point out, after the mayor's re-election in 1929, he put through a salary increase,
so that he now receives $40,000 a year, while the governor of Ohio receives only $10,000.

Sherwood's Earnings Stagger
The fact that Russell T. Sherwood, missing former accountant, and confidential secretary to the mayor, deposited nearly $1,000,000 in five years, according to the records of the probe, also startles citizens here. The immensity of the sums staggers. The mayor's disavowal of Sherwood does not alleviate a deep fear of Tammany among the average citizenry.

Sherwood merely is added to the long list of Tammany leaders with "little tin boxes."

Expressions here indicate that the probe in New York has assumed such national proportions that it is certain to have an effect in the convention. There are many Roosevelt supporters in Ohio, in addition to Bakerites and they hope the governor will carry off the situation triumphantly. But the anti-Tammany sentiment is unmistakably strong.

STRAWBERRY JELLIES AND JAMS OFFER
DELICIOUS TIMELY COMBINATIONS

Housewives who have not yet put up their jam and jelly will find the local markets still filled with wonderful, big, red berries selling at the lowest prices in years. This season's crop is an unusual one. The berries are better, and because of their profusion, prices have been lowered in all the local markets. Now here are some recipes, using the modern short-bill method, that jelly making experts say give perfect results every time if directions are followed carefully. Indeed, these are the exact same recipes that many of the State Fair Jam and Jelly champions use in putting up their prize entries.

Strawberry Jelly
4 cups (2 lbs.) juice
7 1/2 cups (3 3/4 lbs.) sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin
To prepare jelly, crush thoroughly or grind about 3 quarts fully ripe berries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.
Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add pectin, stirring constantly.
Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 eight-ounce glasses.

Strawberry and Pineapple Jam
2 cups (1 lb.) crushed strawberries
2 cups (1 lb.) crushed pineapple
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1/2 bottle (1/2 cup) fruit pectin
To prepare fruit, crush completely or grind about 1 quart fully ripe berries. Each berry must be reduced to pulp. Cut fine or grind 1 medium fully ripe pineapple or 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 10 eight-ounce glasses.

Orange Jam

berries
2 cups (1 lb.) crushed pineapple

Grated rind of 3 oranges, if desired

use 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple.
Measure sugar, prepared fruit, orange juice, and rind into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire.
Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin.
Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly.
Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 10 eight-ounce glasses.

Housewives will be interested in several suggestions by which their recently made jams and jellies can be made into delightful and unusual dishes. Strawberry mousse, for instance, old-fashioned strawberry jelly-roll, home-made strawberry jelly omelet. And many others.

Here are recipes for two of these.

Strawberry Mousse
1 cup strawberry jelly or jam
1 egg white, unbeaten
3/4 cup cream
4 tablespoons milk
Dash of salt
Beat jelly until soft and smooth.
Combine egg white, salt, milk, and cream, and beat with rotary egg beater until stiff. Add jelly and milk well. Turn into mold. Cover with waxed paper, press cover tightly down over paper, and pack in equal parts ice and salt. Let stand 4 hours or longer before serving. Makes 1 quart mousse.

Save 2 1/2¢
PER GLASS
on your Strawberry Jam
The cheapest, most delicious strawberries of the year are crowding the local markets. So read below how you can make jam quicker and cheaper than ever this year ... and then go to your grocer at once.
BY Mrs. F. W. Bateman
ILLINOIS STATE JELLY CHAMPION
"I just hate to think of women still making jam and jelly the old-fashioned long-boil method. It's so costly.
And so terribly tedious!
"I make all my prize-winning jellies and jams with Certo. And I would never think of doing it any other way.
"In the first place, Certo reduces boiling time for crushed strawberry jam, for instance, to one minute.
And, of course, that is how it saves me so much money. For, with so little boiling needed, not one bit of the fruit juice has time to boil away.
And as a result I usually get fully 5 more glasses from the same amount of fruit ... and save as much as 2 1/2¢ on every glass.
"Of course, this 1 minute of hard boiling also saves me lots of time, too. Indeed it takes me only 11 or 12 minutes from the time I put my fruit and sugar mixture on until the time my finished jam is cooling in the glasses.
"And with Certo you get much better tasting jam or jelly, too. Certainly the 37 prizes the State Fair Judges awarded my jams and jellies in the last two years testify to that!"
Why don't you do as Mrs. Bateman suggests and order a supply of Certo today—with your strawberries and other jelly making supplies? You will be delighted at the money and time it will save you!
And the extra flavor it will give your jams and jellies, too ... if you will simply follow carefully the Certo recipes that come in the booklet attached to every Certo bottle.
So don't delay. In a few days this marvelous crop of berries may be on the wane.

The music for the grand march was the junior class song, composed by Miss Dorothy Clemmer with the words written by a group of boys of the junior class.

The auditorium was attractively decorated in a color scheme of green and gold to represent a garden for the "prom." Punch was served during the evening.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Gilbert Elston, young Louisville jockey and contract rider for C. V. Whitney, was confined to the hospital today with a serious head injury inflicted when he fell during the running of the seventh race yesterday at Washington Park.

Elston fell off his mount, Hard Lines, and the horse kicked him in the head as he attempted to hurdle the jockey. Forty-two stitches were taken in the wound which extended from ear to ear, according to Dr. T. M. Stapleton. His condition was considered too serious to submit to an X-ray examination for other possible injuries.

ANTIOCH STUDENTS HEAR MRS. CONOVER SPEAK ON MOLIERE

Mrs. Charlotte Reeve Conover, whose services to Dayton as historian, public speaker, and student of the world of letters were recognized last month at a lecture and reception in her honor at the Art Institute, discussed Moliere's place in literature before students and faculty members of Antioch College yesterday. Mrs. Conover is known for her writings as well as for her lectures, one of her more recent articles having appeared in the Lion's Mouth of Harper's Magazine for June.

Mrs. Conover's discussion of Moliere included a review of his life and mention of such plays as Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme, Les Precieuses Ridicules, Les Femmes Savantes, L'Avare, Le Malade Imaginaire, and Tartuffe, illustrated with stereopticon slides showing scenes from these works. In a description of Moliere's early travels through the provinces with a troupe of young actors and actresses, the speaker said, "Moliere found a new sphere for the drama—that of the common people. He would read his plays to children and servants believing that he could find out in this way whether they were really amusing."

Placing emphasis upon Moliere's wit and satire, the speaker declared, "When he went to Paris, he found a great many things to make fun of. The nobles, the elegant ladies of the court, the clergy, the old theater—all were ridiculed. Louis XIV was fond of snubbing his nobles, so he was very much pleased with the new dramatic author who made fun of them as well as of everything else. In the theater of that time the common people stood in the pit, while the king and his nobles were in boxes ranged around. Everyone watched the king, and if the corners of the royal mouth turned up, France knew how to accept the play."

Mrs. Conover expressed regret at the "untranslatability" of Moliere, by which is lost so much of the keenness on his satiric attacks on French fashions of his century.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS FRAMED by Phil

Before another track season rolls around, Perrin Smith, Cedarville High School's colored star of the cinder paths, expects to familiarize himself with the use of starting blocks.

Smith, an extraordinarily fast sprinter, recently won the 100-yard dash in the finals of the Class B high school division of the state championship track and field meet at Columbus.

Perrin is only a junior. His triumph in the century at the state meet was all the more remarkable when it is considered Cedarville High was represented by a track team this spring for the first time, and the colored youth had no previous training.

Natural speed was his only asset. Without the use of starting blocks, considered a tremendous advantage to a sprinter, Smith ran the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds in the Greene County scholastic track meet early in May. He also won the 220 and 440-yard dashes.

Competing in the district meet at Oxford, O., a week later, Smith was handicapped because the use of starting blocks was compulsory. He finished no better than third in the century and ran second in the 220. Still, he qualified in both events for the state finals at Columbus last week-end.

At the state meet, the use of starting blocks was optional and Smith did not use them. He won the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds after winning his trial heat the day before, and ran second in the 220.

The Cedarville youth, who is 16 years of age, should better his time in the dashes next season and seems certain to develop into a star track athlete.

Smith does not confine himself to one sport. He was in the back field on the school's football team last fall. He also likes basketball but is too fast for himself and can't seem to overcome a tendency to run with the ball.

Our favorite to win the 1932 renewal of the annual Memorial Day 500-mile auto racing classic at Indianapolis, Ind., did not disappoint this department. The winner was Fred Frame and we were pulling for him to win. Not that we were overly optimistic, but there was something about the name that immediately attracted us. Rumors, however, of the existence of a relationship, even a remote one, between Freddie and this department are untrue, more's the pity. We want to get things straightened out and make that clear.

HOW NOTED ACTRESS REMODELED OLD HOUSE IN NEW YORK FOR SELF

A house, 70 or 80 years old, on New York's East river, was bought 10 years ago by Katherine Cornell, the actress, and her husband, Guthrie McClintic, producer. The old house was slightly remodeled and furnished partly with mementoes of the stage. At the left is shown a front corner of the living room, another view of the same room being pictured right. Above, center, the owners' bedroom with pale green walls and gay flowered chintzes. The mantel and cornices were left as they were originally. The decorative mirror complements the carved chifferion directly below it. Unusual blues and sea green are the basic colors in the dining room wall papers, and are repeated in the needlework of the Chippendale chairs. There is a fine old parquet floor and the lyre motif is used in both small service tables and the dining table. The study, not shown, is a mine of stage mementoes.

GAME CALLED OFF BECAUSE OF RAIN

Dampish weather frustrated intention of the Xenia Chick Hatchery and Spring Valley softball teams play a scheduled National League contest at Cox Field Wednesday night.
The weather now owes two games to Xenia softball. Rain had caused postponement of one other National League contest this season. None of the American League games have been called off on account of adverse weather since the season began.

Look! Joe Jackson!

What would this guy have done to the lively ball? He shudder to think, for he is Joe Jackson, former Cleveland and Chicago White Sox star, who made more hits with the dead ball than many present-day players did with the rabbit sphere. Joe, who was banished from baseball following the 1919 world series, now operates a pressing shop in Savannah, Ga., and occasionally plays ball.

EQUALS RECORD

READING, Pa., June 2.—Buzz Arlett, home run king of the International League, equaled the all-time record for homers in one game yesterday when he drove four circuit clouts in the contest between his Baltimore Orioles and the Reading Keys.
The feat has not been accomplished in either the American or National League since 1896. Arlett leads his league this season with 20 homers.

REHEARING OF CASE DENIED BY APPEALS COURT IN DECISION

Court of Appeals has denied an application of John Wyson and others for a rehearing of a decision affirming a trial court judgment favorable to Ralph and Mary Horney.

The application had suggested that parts of the record of testimony on which the appellate court acted in reviewing the case were missing.

The Horneys had claimed ownership of a twenty-three acre farm in Xenia Twp. on which was located a gravel washing plant, a small office building, a house and a large barn or tipple. They asked $100 damages for removal by the defendants of the office building and a temporary injunction to prevent removal of the other two buildings.

A cross-petition of the defendants demanded $2,500 damages, declaring the buildings had been purchased from an agent of the Horneys.

The plaintiffs were not awarded a money judgment but the trial court decreed that the office building be returned to the farm and restored to its former location.

ROBBERS ACTIVE IN CEDARVILLE

Robberies at the Wolford garage and the adjoining Standard Oil Co. filling station operated by James Bailey on Xenia Ave. in Cedarville, sometime Wednesday night, were being investigated by Sheriff John Baughn's office Thursday.

Removing a pane of glass from a rear window, then prying open a door, thieves entered the garage, stole seventy-five cents from the cash register, five tire tubes, a pry bar and a wrench.

The tools stolen were believed to have been used to pry open a door and gain entrance to the filling station where a dozen tires and two tubes were reported taken.

CHURCH PLANS TO HONOR GRADUATES

Special services will be held at Trinity M. E. Church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock for high school graduates who are members of that church. It is announced by the pastor, Rev. E. A. Rager.

The graduates will meet in the choir room and will enter in the processional with the choir. Special music is being planned and Rev. Rager will preach on the theme, "Five Stepping Stones to Greatness." Each graduate will be presented a gift.

There are nine graduates from Central High School and one from Spring Valley High School connected with the church. Other graduates are invited to attend.

CLAIMS KIDNAPING

Mrs. Marion Read, San Francisco society woman, above, alleges that her estranged husband, Alfred C. Read, Jr., kidnaped her at the point of a gun and took her to a lonely spot near Placerville, Cal., to effect a reconciliation. Later she managed to slip away from her husband while he slept. Read, who was arrested, had demanded that his wife drop an $100,000 alienation suit against Claire Windsor, screen actress, and a divorce suit against him. She refused.

Cedar Day Program Is Held In College Gym

Virtually the entire program was carried out indoors after rain, which began falling half an hour before the elaborate festivities were scheduled to commence on the campus made it necessary for Cedarville College to transfer its traditional "Cedar Day" pageantry to Alford Gymnasium Wednesday morning.

The largest throng of people in the history of this annual commencement week frolic was assembled to witness the event, and because of the limited quarters, dis-appointment was in store for many who were turned away. Between 700 and 800 people crowded into the gymnasium, however.

Featuring the observance was the crowning of Miss Rachel Douthett, senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Douthett, near Xenia, as Cedar queen. Miss Sarah Rumbaugh, near Xenia, who reigned as queen last year, had the honor of placing the crown upon her head.

Miss Douthett also served as student directress of the program, and shared the day's honors with Marion Hostetter, senior, son of Prof. S. A. Hostetter, registrar of the college, who delivered the Cedar Day oration. The two were selected for the honors by their classmates.

MISS RACHEL DOUTHETT

MISS SARAH RUMBAUGH

The queen was attended by a group of children, including her nephew, John Douthett Mallow, a trainbearer, in charge of Miss Bernese Elias, preceded by the following May pole dancers: Martha Waddle, Wilda Auld, Eloise McLaughlin, Beatrice Pyles, Nina Stephenson, Marjorie Gordon, Pat Crawford, Marjorie Strowbridge, Eleanor Bull, Mary Katherine Probasco, Mary Eleanor Ford, Lois Cultice, Viola Harbaugh, Virginia Watkins, Doris Hartman and Jane West.

The theme of the program was "As Time Goes By," and the various ages in the world's history were depicted by dancers costumed appropriately according to the times represented. Only the "cave man" age was deleted from the program. A feature was a solo dance by 5-year-old Margaret Louise Borst, daughter of R. M. Borst, coach of the college, and Mrs. Borst.

Following the program about 100 persons enjoyed a basket luncheon in the gymnasium.

Another downpour of rain interrupted a baseball game Wednesday afternoon between Cedarville College and Wilberforce University, after five innings had been completed. When play was suspended, Cedarville was leading, 3 to 2, and it is hoped to finish the contest Friday afternoon.

The college board of trustees was holding its annual meeting Thursday. Commencement exercises will take place Friday morning in the Cedarville Presbyterian Church when degrees will be conferred upon seventeen seniors, and three honorary degrees presented. Rev. A. Gordon MacLennan, pastor of Shady Side United Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pa., will give the address.

DAMAGE SUIT BASED ON ORAL AGREEMENT

Alleged refusal of Blanche Sexton, Springfield Pike, to carry out an oral agreement is made the basis of a suit demanding $485 damages filed against her in Common Pleas Court by Fred and Lulu Zimner.

The Zimmers claim they entered the defendant's employ under a one-year contract last May 9 and that she repudiated the agreement on May 29. According to the complaint, the husband had been engaged to perform the outside work on a large farm owned by the defendant, and his wife was hired to do the house work and cooking. Joseph M. Brant is attorney for the couple.

Dawson Smith Thursday, after he pleaded guilty to operating an auto while intoxicated. His driving rights were revoked for six months.

George Dunn, 55, colored, Cedarville, occupant of Williams' machine was fined $50 and costs for drunkenness, and sent to jail for non-payment.

Williams was said by police to have continued on without stopping after the accident, but was overtaken at the extreme east end of Main St. and arrested.

GRAND JURY TRIALS FOR WOMEN ACCUSED IN ASSAULT CHARGE

Arraigned in Municipal Court Wednesday afternoon on assault charges preferred by Mrs. Lillian Hess, Spring Valley, who was still bedfast and unable to appear in court, Mrs. Maud Fox, 53, Spring Valley, and her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Bushnell, 34, Xenia, pleaded not guilty.

Through their counsel, Attorney

George Smith, the two women demanded a jury trial, which was assigned for 9 o'clock, Saturday morning by Judge E. Dawson Smith. Bonds were fixed at $500 each.

Harold Fox, 16, son of Mrs. Fox, alleged to have participated with his sister and mother in an attack upon Mrs. Hess at her home Tuesday afternoon, in which she was beaten severely about the head, was ordered held in the juvenile detention quarters at the County Infirmary, pending a further investigation of his case. Juvenile Judge S. C. Wright held an informal hearing in the boy's case Wednesday.

The reputed assault upon Mrs.

Hess was believed by authorities to have been motivated by a liquor raid earlier Tuesday at Mrs. Fox's home. Subsequently she was fined $100 and costs for possessing liquor.

ANNUAL RECITAL IS LAST FOR DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE MUSIC

Annual recital of the department of music of Cedarville College under the direction of Miss Lydia A. Berkley, Kenton, O., directress of the department, who is resigning the position after serving four years, was presented as a commencement week feature Wednesday night in the Cedarville Presbyterian Church.

Miss Berkley will be succeeded by Mrs. Margaret Jamieson Work, daughter of Rev. Ralph A. Jamieson, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church in Cedarville, who was appointed at the semi-annual board of trustees' meeting in February. She will take charge of the department in September when the fall term begins.

Mrs. Work is a graduate of Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., where she obtained degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of music. She served as an assistant in the Monmouth College music conservatory for two years, taught in various high schools and at Frenchburg Academy, a United Presbyterian Church mission school in Kentucky, and at present is in Denver, Colo., pursuing an advanced course for her master's degree.

The recital Wednesday evening was opened with the singing of the college song, "Cedarville," by the girls' glee club. The words were written by Dr. W. R. McClesney, college president, and the song was sung to the tune of "America the Beautiful."

Next followed a piano duet with the Misses Mary Margaret McMillan and Ruth Kimble at one piano, and Misses Eleanor Bull and Beatrice Pyles at the other. A glee club trio composed of Misses Eleanor Bull, Lenora Skinnell and Nina Stevenson sang two selections: the Misses Kimble and McMillan played a piano number; Mrs. Walter Corry sang three vocal solos; Clyde Hutchison played a pipe organ number; Eugene Corry, a piano number; the Revelers' Quartet composed of Edward Irons, Joseph Free, Preston Garlough and George Gordon, with Clyde Hutchison at the piano, sang two songs; Marion Hostetler at the piano and Clyde Hutchison at the organ played a duet, and three vocal selections by the girls' glee club closed the program.

HOW TO FEED A TREE

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Garden Expert for Central Press and The Gazette

Feeding the lawn tree is not quite as simple as it sounds, yet, like everything else when one knows how it is not overly difficult.

The use of manure and other organic fertilizers on the surface, about lawn trees, while theoretically correct, is generally very wasteful because the tree roots are likely to be deep in the soil and the valuable part of the manure leaches away.

The quickest and best way to feed lawn trees is to use a well balanced fertilizer or some of the specially prepared tree foods. Punch a series of holes fifteen to eighteen inches deep and two feet apart in a circle around the tree. A crow bar can be used for this purpose. The holes should extend over an area which is the same as the spread of the tree top. Into each hole drop a large or double handful of fertilizer. Then the holes should be refilled solidly with good topsoil on top of the fertilizer.

The first application may be made early in the growing season, and in the case of much weakened trees can be repeated a month or so later. Trees should not be fed late in the season or it may encourage a growth too late in the year.

One way of estimating the quantity of fertilizer required is to allow one pound for each inch of circumference of the tree trunk measured one foot above ground.

Buys This Finer ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

A DAYTON PRODUCT

Combining in one refrigerator the advertised features of several of the highest priced refrigerators on the market—each feature scientifically selected with the idea of making this the dominating refrigerator value of today!

Leland Motor
Mullins Evaporator
Dayton Compressor
8-Point Cold Control
All-Steel Cabinet
Dry Zero Insulation

"White House" refrigerators have many desirable selling features, but in making comparisons, you should look deeper than mere trinkets on the surface. The six fundamental and important features of refrigeration are named above. Give them your first consideration in deciding real value and dependability.

"White House" A Dependable Brand

The brand name "White House" as applied to electrical refrigeration may be new, but for more than 30 years, it has stood for dependability on C & F products. Its use on refrigeration assures you that the resources of this organization are back of this dependable product and nothing but the finest refrigeration in America should be compared with "White House" quality.

Service Guaranteed

For over a quarter century (before electrical household refrigeration was thought of) this company has been giving dependable service on C & F merchandise. "White House" refrigerators are engineered to give years of care-free service. As the years pass—should service be required, our customers know that they can depend on C & F reliability. Don't pay a penalty for "free service" you may never need. A good refrigerator, properly installed, should operate for five to seven years with very little if any attention other than an occasional oiling.

Delivered Prices

Don't be fooled by "F. O. B. Factory" prices. Usually "F. O. B. Factory" means freight charges from factory must be added to the cost, but it has been called to our attention that in some electrical refrigeration, "F. O. B. Factory" means adding freight charges, installation charges, service charges and even part of the dealer's profit. We quote "Delivered Prices"—you have no extras to pay. Therefore in making price comparisons, compare the price delivered to your home.

We handle our own Easy Payment Plan, you deal directly with us.

Sangerfest Chorus To Broadcast To World

By MILDRED MASON A massed chorus of more than 1,000 male voices, gathered in Madison, Wis., for the twentieth biennial Sangerfest of the Norwegian Singers' Association of America, will present a special program over an NBC-WJZ network Friday from 1 to 1:30 p. m. The broadcast, originating at the University of Wisconsin field house, will be carried by short wave to Germany, Norway and Sweden. Governor LaFollette of Wisconsin will extend greetings during the broadcast in English, German and Norwegian. Julius E. Olson, professor emeritus of Scandinavian languages at the University of Wisconsin and president of the Norwegian Singers' Association, will speak briefly and Nora Fauchald, soloist with Sousa's band for five years and internationally known soprano, will be guest soloist on the program.

Present "Rip Van Winkle". That well known classic, "Rip Van Winkle" will be offered by the Radio Guild during its program over an NBC network through WLW, Cincinnati, Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

Varsity Four Featured. The Varsity Four, male quartet, will give its own interpretation of "Stout-Hearted Men", stirring melody from the recent Broadway hit, "New Moon", during a program over WLW, Cincinnati, Friday at 7 p. m. Other songs to be sung by the quartet during the broadcast are "Tip and Down the Hill", "Sing a New Song", "Walking on Air" and "High and Low".

Present "Blossom Time". A miniature arrangement of Rudolf Friml's operetta, "Blossom Time" will be offered by a concert orchestra, vocal sextet and male quartet over WLW, Cincinnati, Friday at 9 p. m. Helen Marie Anderson, soprano, Franklin Bens, tenor and Louis John Johnson, baritone, will be featured in solo roles.

Just For Luck! Whenever the Mills Brothers broadcast or appear on the stage, there is an old browned paper-backed book in the inside of the guitar case John Mills, the "umpah-bump-bump" basso, carries. It is the mail order catalogue from which the guitar, the singing four some uses was ordered. The Mills Brothers say they are not in any way superstitious, but it would hardly be safe for anyone to try to remove that old catalogue. "That," says John Mills, "is our luck."

THE Sacred Eye By BRUCE E. GRIGGS A Story of Mystery and Love in The South Seas

READ THIS FIRST: After finding an old ship's log in a Chicago bookstore, Jay Bruce, who tells the story, Ione Adams, Pilly Lightner, Tom Barry, and Larry Holmes, set out for the South Seas. Before their departure from Chicago a strange girl, a Miss Whitney, attempts to obtain possession of the log, which relates the story of a cruise for pearls by a Yankee sea captain 100 years ago. Ione and Jay and Pilly and Tom are married before the cruise. In Tahiti Miss Whitney again appears, this time as Pau, princess of several islands in the French Society group. She takes them to her island palace where Larry falls in love with her. Pau tells them the story of the Yankee captain, who was her great-grandfather and of his attempt to steal the great black pearl in the eye of the god Nu on the island of Tarea. Meanwhile a man named Livingston, a cashed British naval officer, attempts to get possession of the log also. He succeeds, but not entirely, as Larry has taken the precaution to photograph the pages. Then Pau is kidnapped by Livingston and taken away on his boat. With the aid of natives she is rescued and Livingston himself taken as a captive in the fight.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 25 "YOU LISTEN TO ME!" Larry's tone was ugly and he shot the comment at Livingston. "You're going to stay right here and that log book is coming back! Don't make any mistake about that. There may be ways to make you act as we direct," he added darkly. "A return to the dark ages and the torture chamber!" Livingston asked lightly, whimsically. "I saw a wave of hatred surge over Holmes' face, and I knew he was remembering the feel of this man's flesh beneath his fist. I saw that Tom sensed the mounting tension. Pau, sitting close to Larry, was evidently perfectly in sympathy with him. After her experience, that was easily understood. It was Tom who stepped in. "There shouldn't be a great deal of difficulty in getting the log back," he said. "Livingston easily 'in the morning I'll radio your boat and sign your name." "You're an operator, then?" Livingston asked. "Yes." "I take it you heard some interesting flashes go out from here in that case," Livingston smiled. "Very interesting!" "Utato is a fool at times," Livingston said briefly. "He was teaching me the code," Tom grinned. "Naval man?" "During the war." "I was under the Union Jack for a time myself. It occurred to me that to hear the two chatting one would have thought they had met casually, shortly before. That is what polish and breeding will do. It is what pieces and still be gentlemen about it. The tension eased slightly. Livingston looked over at Pau: "Really you know I am sorry to have had to 'plant' Utato on you, but I wanted to know what was going on." "That was the way the man was. He realized instantly that Utato's days of usefulness on Moatonga had passed. There was now nothing to conceal. He took it easily as he would take a smart move by an opponent in a chess game. One of his pawns had merely been removed from the board. "How long have you had Utato?" I asked. "He was on my ship during the war, and when he came out of uniform he took with me." "Would Utato be listening on the Wanderer if I were to send to him now?" Tom wanted to know. "Really, it isn't going to be quite as easy as that," Livingston answered. "There is only one person who knows where that log is hidden, and I am that person." Suddenly Pau sat up very straight. I noticed that her eyes were blazing queerly. "Palmer Livingston, why don't you drop this whole thing and go back to your copra plantation?" For a moment I thought he might not have heard the question. He sat very still. Then he replied quietly: "My dear lady, the answer is simple. The war was over, and he took his hands expressively. "That gem, worth several sizeable fortunes, is somewhere on Tarea. I rather fancy Parisian jewelers would give a good deal for the Sacred Eye of Nu, the biggest, most perfect black pearl the South Seas ever produced. It's quicker than growing copra, and I am partial to the life of an English country gentleman. "But you haven't any right to it," Pau cried. "It doesn't belong to you. That jewel has been linked to my family for a hundred years." "Possibly as much right to it as your great grandfather had," he told her impassively. "Personally I think the jewel really belongs to a very ancient religion, but now that to whomever finds it, and can hold it. But of course that's a matter of opinion." "Has that given you any right to gain my confidence, to put spies in my home, simply so you could find out all I knew of the story? Is that your standard of fair play?" "I should say that all is fair in love and war," he told her casually. "I didn't like the light in Larry's eyes. As I watched I saw the muscles of his jaws go rigid, and the knuckles of his hand whitened. "Where was Utato tonight?" I asked. "We didn't see him when we 'visited' you." "I know, of course that he must have been on the atoll with the others, but I grabbed at random at anything that would serve to turn the conversation in safer channels. "Over on the island with the crew," Livingston replied politely. "The boys had been on board for several days, and I gave them a chance to stretch their legs." "Thoughtful of you to build a great roaring fire to 'telegraph' your skulking in there behind Omos," Holmes gloated with a half-sneer. His very posture was a taunt. "Those things will happen, don't you know, in spite of everything," Livingston said, laughing at his own expense. "I cautioned the men to build a very small blaze, but apparently they forgot." "And you were too deeply engrossed in matters of great moment to keep watch that orders were obeyed?" Larry's laughter was positively insulting now. He was making no attempt to hide his stinging hatred. Livingston, on the other hand, was maintaining a serene composure, apparently oblivious to the venom in Larry's voice. He was in a decidedly delicate position. I couldn't help admiring the easy grace with which he carried the thing off. His perfect poise under the circumstances was unique. Here in this very room where he had once been an honored and welcome guest, he sat now—a prisoner. The girl who had been his hostess, was now his captor. There was no mistaking her bitterness. He couldn't help feeling it. One felt instinctively somehow, that at one time the girl had cared very deeply for this man. But reality that he had betrayed this regard; spent time and attention simply to get possession of her seething hatred. That cunning tenderness to hatred. Something once very precious had died. True, there was no basis for this conjecture, other than Utato's idle gossip—it was simply the functioning of a sort of "sixth sense" which sometimes tells more than words. I remember that he had readily admitted he had been after her family secrets, and had even gone so far as to slip his spies into her household, casually justifying this treachery with: "All is fair in love and war." Pau, being a woman, had bitterly resented this treatment. Utato, I remember had said that while Livingston would be delighted to take her for a mistress, he wouldn't think of marrying her because of the Kanaka strain in her blood. And I thought of Kipling's line: "And she knifed me one night, 'cause I wisht she was white—" Island blood might be flowing in her veins, but as I looked at her, I realized she had that indefinable power to attract the male. Men would always desire her; make violent love to her—it would never be that "little sister" type of attraction. She moved slightly and the light struck her shining hair, so black that is was positively blue. Came a new realization of what a radiant thing she was. Livingston, too, possessed that charm fatal to women; that devil-may-care dash, plus the physical courage to back it up. His was a picturesque, nonchalant personality. I wondered idly to just what extent Holmes sensed this, and how far it went toward whetting his keen hatred of the man. From long association I knew he was sensitive to those fine overtones of life. Pau's voice speaking to Livingston roused me from my reverie. It had that desperate note; almost pleading. "You know the curse that has followed that jewel," she was saying. "You know the story of my great grandfather—that he never came back. That curse isn't broken yet. Ancient Nu has power, and the history of that pearl is written in human blood!" "My observation is that human blood is one of the cheapest of all commodities," Livingston rejoined impassively. "We were to have reason to remember that remark vividly, later. At the moment it chilled us. We were seeing yet another side of the man. I chanced to glance at Ione and Pilly. They had looked up—startled. Then I saw Holmes! I wanted to shout—to tell him to put that damn gun down, but I realized that a quick noise or movement can often be the detonating spark in a gas filled chamber. I didn't want to watch murder, so I gripped myself. I knew that gun. It was mine, and with terror I remembered that it had a light trigger action which would pull off under a couple of ounces. Larry's face was livid with rage. The muzzle of the automatic never wavered. It was pointing directly between Livingston's eyes. (TO BE CONTINUED)

Out Of The Tree Tops Into The Flesh Pots

Maureen O'Sullivan, the little Irish girl, comes down out of the tree-tops in "Tarzan of the Apes" to go up in the elevators in "Skyscraper Soul," the talkie version of the Faith Baldwin novel, in which she will play the lead with a splendid opportunity for acting.

The little actress has had an interesting career. Daughter of an English army officer, she was brought over from Ireland and assigned to play opposite John McCormack in "Son O' My Heart." Other more or less indifferent roles followed and her friends claimed her true talents never got full never takes his eyes from them, absorbing every reaction of the principals.

Mentioned as possible headliners with "Bing" Crosby in Paramount's all star radio broadcasting film are Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians, the Boswell Sisters and the Mills Brothers. Frank Tuttle will direct.

This studio also announces the purchase of film rights to "No. 51," the latest Louis Bromfield novelette. Universal formerly owned the rights, but Paramount wanted it for Nancy Carroll, who will be featured with George Raft, recent find. Miss Carroll is back in Hollywood after two years in New York.

With Universal's "Back Streets" completed, Irene Dunne, heroine, has gone to New York for a month's vacation and John Boles, male lead, has started a five-weeks personal appearance tour in mid-west cities. Zasu Pitts, June Clyde, Walter Catlett and Robert McWade were also in the cast.

The high school athletic association reorganized by electing Curtis Geyer as president, William Gowdy as vice-president and Frederick Flynn as secretary-treasurer.

A return to the old popular custom of holding Central High School commencements at night instead of in the morning will be made this year. The new plan also includes the discarding of the wearisome practice of allowing each graduate to speak and only twelve of the thirty-four members of this year's class will appear on the program.

The famous Bert Wheeler-Robert Woolsey team has gone on the rocks of dissension after five years of team work on the stage and screen. Woolsey, who admitted that "neither of us is worth a darn alone," said he would choose another partner and go on with his screen work while Wheeler, now on a vaudeville tour with Dorothy Lee, screen actress, is scheduled to go into a show. The vaudeville tour Wheeler took is blamed for the break.

CLOTHING LEADERS DISCUSS PROBLEMS AT LOCAL MEETING

Fourteen Clothing Club leaders representing nine 4-H Clubs met at the Post Office Bldg. Tuesday afternoon with Miss Edna Callahan, clothing specialist from Ohio State University, to discuss timely problems in their field of work.

Miss Callahan pointed out the educational advantages to be derived from efficient record keeping as may be taught by 4-H Club leaders. The record book furnished by the Ohio State University Club Department is a required part of the clothing exhibit as displayed at the Greene County Fair. With the use of these books and helpful suggestions given at this meeting club members will be able to score their own garments, thereby making improvements in their own work.

Miss Callahan also gave valuable help in subject matter, teaching leaders choices of materials, color combinations, and ways of organizing their lessons so that their teaching might be most efficient.

Those present according to Miss Ruth Radford, home demonstration agent, were Mrs. Jesse Hill, New Burlington; Miss Kizzie Edam, Spring Valley; Miss Julia McCullister, Cedarville; Miss Theima Anderson, Xenia; Miss Mary Elizabeth Fisher, Bowersville; Miss Helen Spahr and Miss Rachel Jones, Jamestown; Miss Louise Thomas and Miss Jean Haines, Caesars-creek; Miss Dorothy Eckman and Verna Mae Stein, Clinton; Miss Ruth Mossman and Miss Nellie Mossman, Ross Twp.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning 'Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remedy a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Do you inhale?

Three little words that "upset the apple cart"
in the cigarette trade

DO you inhale? Can any question be simpler? And yet—what a furor it has created! The cigarette trade feels that the public has been let in on a sacrosanct secret! "You've upset the apple cart," they say.

Why such anxiety? Certainly the public doesn't fear the question—for everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly...every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes!
